JAZZ IN THE STREETS

Photographs by Mike Shur

Music and musicians in New Orleans, the birthplace of jazz, are everywhere. Second line marchers, buskers in tourist areas, headliners in clubs, and musicians heading to gigs on street-cars. During one week I was able to capture the creativity of these musicians and their joy of performance. Their accomplished musicianship went hand in glove with humor and elation of performance. I worked to express in photographs the emotion and atmosphere evoked by the music.
