

[ONLINE EDUCATION] RSVP for Creating More Engaging Assignments with VoiceThread Webinar 02-20-2020

Dear Colleagues,

How can you enhance your course and more effectively engage your students? VoiceThread is a tool integrated within Blackboard that allows faculty and students to easily create video and audio enhanced presentations and assignments. What kinds of assignments are likely to be enhanced by VoiceThread? Can VoiceThread be used for student group projects? How can student assignments in VoiceThread be tracked and graded in Blackboard? While many of you might already use VoiceThread to create presentations, lectures, and commentary, perhaps allowing students to pose questions or comments in response, you might not be aware of the wide range of other potential uses of VoiceThread.

In our upcoming webinar, we will answer some questions you may have about VoiceThread and explore the varied ways it can lead to more engaging student assignments.

Join us on February 20, 2020, 12:00 to 1:00 pm for “Creating More Engaging Assignments with VoiceThread” a lunchtime webinar. Our faculty co-host will be Katherine Burt, Assistant Professor, Department of Health Sciences, who will share her expertise and experience.

Note: all registrants receive a webinar recording, a written summary and the presentation slides.

About the webinar series:

These hour-long webinars are conveniently delivered online each month during the academic year, and are easily accessed from desktop, phone, or tablet. Webinars are facilitated by the department of Online Education staff and each features a presentation by a faculty co-host with expertise on the topic. Attendees have time at the end of each webinar to comment, share their views, and to ask questions of presenters.

Some of the future topics in our series will include webinars on assessment strategies, active learning, instructor presence, and group work.

Watch for our announcements of upcoming webinars and if there is a topic that you think might be of interest to you or your colleagues, do contact us with your suggestions at online.education@lehman.cuny.edu
