

LEHMAN COLLEGE'S LEONARD LIEF LIBRARY INVITES YOU TO INNOVATION:

ZINE WORKSHOP

Interested in making a Zine? Don't know what a Zine is?

"Zines are small self-published magazines that are usually [though not always] written by one person and distributed through an intricate network of individuals and collectives. ... Zines can be about diversity, creativity, innovation, and expression." *

- Explore this emerging medium and consider its scholarly relevance using themes of equality, diversity, and inclusiveness
- Apply your creativity and personal voice to design a Zine by the end of the session: one copy for you - and one for the Library's new Zine Collection

Construction materials will be provided
