PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Limit the description to six pages and provide necessary additional information in an appendix. This description should include:

- a. Introduction: A concise statement of the project and its significance. Include specific objectives for the period and support requested.
- b. Background: Place the project in the context of pertinent research and literature, including that of the applicant. Since Shuster Fellowships are for support of "scholarly work in progress, particularly work nearing completion", indicate the relationship of this project to work completed and planned.
- c. Project Design: Describe in detail the procedures, experiments, approaches, and methods to be used. Provide a tentative schedule of stages or progress in the project, indicating time periods, completion dates, the type of data or results. Requests for travel, domestic and foreign, should demonstrate the need for on-site work with resources or materials otherwise unavailable. Proposals in the creative arts might contain examples or evidence (photographs, programs, reviews, etc.) of the applicant's previous work related to the current project.
- d. Funding Justification: Describe the need for funding particularly in terms of alternative means of completing the project, i.e., if it were not to receive support in whole or in part through a Shuster Fellowship.
