Bronx, NY- Lehman College women’s basketball coach Eric Harrison, and men’s basketball coach Steve Schulman announce the 6th Annual Eric Harrison & Steve Schulman Basketball Camps at Lehman College. The two weekly sessions will begin on July 27th thru August 1st, with session two being held from August 4th-August 9th on the campus of Lehman College in the lovely APEX athletic facilities.

This year’s camp sessions are geared toward boys and girls ages 5-18, with skills being emphasized from beginners to the experienced players. The camp fee is $175 for the weekly session, with a discount being applied for a two week sign-up. The Harrison/Schulman camp is unique in the fact that it combines boys and girls basketball together to emphasize all aspects of basketball.

Fundamentals are emphasized during the weekly sessions, with campers competing on teams, and learning from some of the premiere coaches in the metropolitan area. “Our camp is devoted to teaching the fundamentals of basketball,” said coach Harrison, the two-time CUNY conference coach of the year. “After working with our collegiate players all year, we look forward to working with the youth and teaching them skills that will help them get to the collegiate level.”

Registration has currently begun, and space is still available. To register for this year’s camp, you can contact the basketball offices at (718)960-7175 or (718)960-7745 to receive a brochure. Don’t miss out on one of the top camps in the New York City area. Register now!
