

Part of Lehman College's Celebrations of the 400th anniversary of the founding of Québec by Samuel de Champlain

Prof. Magali Deleuze

Historian, Professor at the Royal Military College of Canada

Montréal's Expo 67: The Discovery of Québec's Pride and Modernity

An illustrated lecture (in English) about the transformative aspects of the world's fair held in Montreal in 1967.

Author of various articles and books, including L'une et l'autre indépendance; Les médias au Québec et la guerre d'Algérie (2001),

Magali Deleuze's research interests lie in Canadian external relations, particularly the international history of Canada and Quebec since 1945. She is member of the Interuniversity Group for Contemporary International Relations History (GIHRIC) and is editor of the Histoire-Point Critique series, published by Éditions Point de fuite (Montréal).

Monday, April 14, 2008 3:00 p.m.

Lehman College Art Gallery

Free and open to the public

Lecture sponsored by the Lehman College Division of Arts and Humanities