

The Haitian Studies Institute of CUNY

& The Departments of Languages & Literatures;
Latin American, Latino, and Puerto Rican Studies;
and African and African-American Studies

invite you to a lecture by the writer

MARIE-CÉLIE AGNANT

"Writing with a Burning Pen"

(lecture and discussion in English)

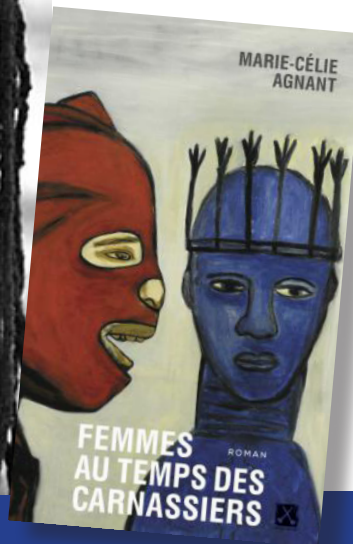

Tuesday, October 27, 3:30 p.m.

Carman Hall, Multimedia Center, Studio C-36

Originally from Haiti, the Québécoise author Marie-Célie Agnant has for twenty years written an important corpus of texts, translated into several languages, including novels, poetry, short stories, and novels for young readers. Her most recent novel, Femmes au Temps des Carnassiers, was published in September 2015.

Reception following the lecture hosted by the Francophone Club of Lehman at 5:00 p.m. in the Student Life Building, room 111.

Atelier in French, 5:30 p.m.
Students and members of the Lehman community are invited to a discussion in French with the author.
If interested (and for a copy of the text by the author to read in advance),
please RSVP by October 22
with Dr. Amin Erfani or Prof. Thomas Spear (Languages & Literatures, Carman Hall 257, telephone 718-960-8215)
or Ramiro Salazar of the Francophone Club.

LEHMAN COLLEGE

CUNY