The Center for Human Rights and Peace Studies
Presents
Nueva Visión: Latino Politics and the Rights of Migrants in the Americas

Cosponsors: Department of Political Science at Lehman College and the CUNY Latino Initiative

Conference will convene leading scholars of Latino politics and prominent leaders of migrant organizations from throughout the United States and Latin America to advance the human rights of migrants beyond the limits of the current immigration debate in the United States.

Keynote:
Professor Ediberto Roman

Florida International University-School of Law and Lehman Alumni

Thursday
May 10, 2012
East Dining Room
Lehman College
2:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Partial list of speakers include:
Chris Zepeda (University of Chicago) • Sandy Plácido (Harvard) • Raymond Rocco (UCLA) • Adrian Felix (University of California Santa Cruz) • Aide Acosta (University of Indiana) • Luis Barrios (John Jay College) • Community Leader Tupac Enriquez (Arizona) • Community Leader Rosa Martha Zarate (California) • Arturo Carmona (Presente.org) • Janet Perez (Lehman Dream Team) • Juan Carlos Ruiz (New Sanctuary Movement) • Elizabeth Oliveira (Red De Comunidades Salvadoreñas) • Sonia Guinansaca (New York State Youth Leadership Council) • Ron Gochez (Southern California Immigration Coalition)
And more speakers from VAMOS-Unidos, NICE, Mayavision, and others!

For more information: alfonso.gonzales@lehman.cuny.edu